Week Without Violence 2023 Toolkit

Not On Our Screens. Not In Our Streets: A Movement Towards Violence-Free Communities

During the third week of October, YWCAs observe the Week Without Violence to envision and advocate for a violence-free world. This year, join us in creating a movement to end gender-based violence in every space where it occurs. We know that there is a deep connection between online and offline hate speech and violence against women, girls and gender diverse people in all their diversity. We all have the right to be our truest selves, to explore and express ourselves safely and free from violence, whether in digital spaces or in our neighbourhoods. Together, we are standing in solidarity with survivors of technology-facilitated and gender-based violence and taking action to end violence on our screens and on our streets!
